

Report of the Blood Donation Camp on November 7, 2025 at NLUJAA Campus

November 7, 2025

The NSS Unit of NLUJA, Assam organized a Blood Donation Camp in collaboration with Narayana Super speciality Hospital Guwahati. The Camp was organised in the administrative Block of NLUJAA , where a team of doctors and medical professionals facilitated the blood donation process. The donors comprised of both the students, faculty , administrative staff and local residents. The donation was on the basis of consent forms given to the donors and this process was facilitated by the NSS volunteers. The required procedures were followed before and after blood donation. In the entire event, 38 units of blood were collected. The hospital staff assured that the blood collected will not be charged and will be given to the needy and economically weaker sections. After the donation, a certificate of donation was issued to each one of the donors.
